Dear Sir/Madam,

The Office on Good Governance/Office of the Prime Minister, throughout 2024, has continued to strengthen the process of public consultations as a key tool for the inclusion of citizens, civil society, and other relevant stakeholders in the drafting and implementation of public policies. This practice has contributed to increased transparency, accountability, and the quality of institutional decision-making.

The year 2024 marked significant progress, including the increase of public participation, the development and advancement of the digital platform for public consultations <https://konsultimet.rks-gov.net/> and the capacity-building of the public administration for more effective implementation of consultations. This has been achieved in particular through the use of the public consultation platform.

This report presents an overview of successes, challenges, and concrete recommendations for the further improvement of the public consultation process. One of the priorities for the future is the expansion and sustainability of this process also at the local level, making citizen participation broader, more equal, and more representative. Nevertheless, ongoing challenges have also been identified, such as the lack of sufficient capacities in some institutions, inadequate engagement of different interest groups, and the need for a more standardized and sustainable approach at all levels.

Our goal remains unchanged and unwavering, to build a sustainable culture of dialogue and cooperation between institutions and citizens, at all levels of governance.

Respectfully,
Habit Hajredini

1. Introduction

The year 2024 marked significant progress in consolidating public consultation practices in the Republic of Kosovo, particularly in terms of the active inclusion of civil society organizations (CSOs). With the support of the Public Consultation Platform (<https://konsultimet.rks-gov.net>), a higher level of transparency has been achieved in the drafting, publication, and reporting of policies and legislation, enabling the direct involvement of citizens and the general public in these processes.

This development reflects the growing commitment of public institutions to implement democratic standards and ensure accountability in policy-making. The engagement of non-governmental organizations and their interest in being active participants in the process, as well as clearer reporting by institutions, are indicators of a positive and progressive dynamic.

The Public Consultation Platform has now become an essential institutional and official tool, serving as the central point of communication between public institutions, stakeholders, and citizens. It ensures inclusive participation in policy-making and decision-making processes of public interest, increasing the transparency and accountability of public bodies.

The active participation of civil society has become increasingly evident through this online platform, where interested parties have registered and contributed through comments and participation in the drafting of policies and legislation.

In this regard, the Government of the Republic of Kosovo, through the Office on Good Governance (OGG) within the Office of the Prime Minister, has marked progress in developing standards and practices to increase the participation of civil society in the policy-making process. An important step has been the integration of the Regulation on Minimum Standards for the Public Consultation Process (No. 05/2016) into the new Government Regulation (No. 17/2024 on the Regulation and Procedure of the Government of the Republic of Kosovo).

The Office on Good Governance, as the coordinator of the public consultation process, continues to be responsible for managing all consultations, including those conducted through the online platform. Currently, this office is in the process of drafting a new manual for implementing the new Regulation, while continuing to apply the existing manual until the new one is finalized.

In accordance with the new Government Work Regulation (No. 21.05.2024), the Office on Good Governance, in cooperation with consultation coordinators from all ministries and relevant institutions, has also prepared the annual public consultation report for 2024.

According to the published statistics for the reporting period, a total of 259 documents were published during 2024 on the Public Consultation Platform, which include:

- 20 concept documents
- 37 draft laws
- 10 strategies
- 03 programs
- 09 action plans
- 60 draft regulations
- 114 administrative instructions, and

- 06 other documents.

This progress reflects a continued institutional commitment to strengthening dialogue with the public and ensuring a more transparent and inclusive policy-making process in the Republic of Kosovo.

2. Executive Summary

The report on public consultations for the year 2024 summarizes the process and outcomes of public consultations carried out by the relevant institutions during the period from 1 January to 31 December 2024. This report includes the documents published on the official consultation platform (<https://konsultimet.rks-gov.net>) and analyzes the level of public participation and the impact of comments received on these documents.

The key points of the report are summarized as follows:

- The consulted documents, meaning the list of published documents including the title/type of each document.
- The consultation period, with the duration of each consultation process and the involvement of stakeholders.
- Public participation, meaning the number of comments received and the analysis of contributions made by citizens and civil society organizations.
- The results of the consultations, where the approved documents after the review of comments are presented, as well as the registry for each consulted document.
- Recommendations and lessons learned: suggestions and improvements for the consultation process in the future.

The engagement of civil society organizations, with around 52 participants and 170 comments submitted by CSOs, shows solid participation, but it still remains selective and not representative of the entire civil sector. Their involvement in only a limited number of draft documents indicates interest in topics that directly affect the public interest, but also highlights the need for broader inclusion.

Regarding the quality and relevance of the comments, the comments submitted by CSOs have also been constructive in nature, often detailed and focused on improving the quality of policies. The comments had the most impact on documents in which the topics were sensitive and timely for the public. Nevertheless, a portion of them was not reflected in the final versions of the documents, raising awareness and questions about how to address and approach the real impact of consultations and public comments on policies and legislation.

A positive development is the clearer reporting by institutions on the handling and acceptance of comments, with documented examples of reflections in some cases. This helps build trust between parties and increases the accountability of public authorities.

The report presents an overall assessment of transparency and public inclusion in decision-making, highlighting best practices and the challenges encountered during the year.

During the period from 1 January to 31 December 2024, a total of 251 documents were published by government institutions.

The institutions with the highest percentage of documents accompanied by final reports are:

- Ministry of Defense – 100.00%
- Ministry of Education, Science, Technology and Innovation, 100.00%
- Ministry of Culture, Youth and Sports - 100.00%
- Ministry of Local Government Administration - 100.00%
- Ministry of Regional Development - 100.00%
- Ministry of Economy - 75.00%
- Office of the Prime Minister - 64.71%
- Ministry of Agriculture, Forestry and Rural Development - 62.86%
- Ministry of Industry, Entrepreneurship and Trade - 80.00%
- Ministry of Environment, Spatial Planning and Infrastructure - 54.29%
- Ministry of External Affairs and Diaspora - 50.00%
- Ministry of Finance, Labor and Transfers - 50.00%
- Ministry of Justice - 42.42%
- Ministry of Internal Affairs - 30.23%
- Ministry of Health - 0.00%.

This result shows an almost equal distribution of documents published with and without final reports for the year 2024, although some institutions have performed significantly better than others in preparing final reports. Out of 251 documents, 144 were accompanied by final reports (57.37%), while 107 documents (42.63%) were without final reports.

Out of the 259 documents, 52 documents (170 comments or 20.08%) included comments and contributions from stakeholders, whereas 207 documents (79.02%) were published without stakeholder comments.

On the consultation platform, documents were published both with and without stakeholder comments across ministries:

- The Ministry of Education, Science, Technology and Innovation and the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Diaspora had a high percentage of documents with stakeholder comments (100%).
- The Ministry of Economy also had a relatively high percentage (50%) compared to other institutions.
- Ministry of Finance, Labor and Transfers out of a total of 15 documents, 6 of them are with comments and 9 without comments, or 40.00%
- The Ministry of Justice had the highest number of documents with comments (10 documents), marking a percentage of 28.57%.
- Ministry of Culture, Youth and Sports out of a total of 22 documents, 5 of them are with comments and 17 without comments, or 22.73%.
- In general, the highest number of documents was published by the Ministry of Internal Affairs (44 documents), of which only 18.18% included contributions from stakeholders.
- Institutions such as the Ministry of Local Government Administration, the Ministry of Defense, the Ministry of Regional Development, and several other ministries did not include stakeholder comments in any of their published documents (0%).
- The most common types of documents were administrative instructions (45.52%) and draft regulations (22.39%).

The most active institutions, based on stakeholder activity on the platform, were:

- The Ministry of Education, Science, Technology and Innovation with 07 documents (100%).

- The Ministry of Internal Affairs with 44 documents (16.42% of the total).
- Ministry of Finance, Labor and Transfers with 25 documents or 40.00%.
- Ministry of Culture, Youth and Sports with a total of 22 documents or 22.73%.
- Ministry of Internal Affairs with 44 documents (16.42% of the total),
- The Ministry of Environment, Spatial Planning and Infrastructure with 38 documents (14.18%),
- The Ministry of Justice and the Ministry of Agriculture, Forestry and Rural Development with 35 documents each (13.06%).

Meanwhile, the Ministry for Return and Communities and the Office of the President of the Republic of Kosovo did not publish any documents during this period.

In general, the documents were focused on administrative matters and regulations, where:

- The Ministry of Education, Science, Technology and Innovation and the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Diaspora achieved the highest percentage of documents with stakeholder comments (100%).
- The Ministry of Economy also had a relatively high percentage (50%) compared to other institutions.
- The Ministry of Justice also has a high number of documents with comments (10 documents), marking an increase to a percentage of 28.57%.
- Ministry of Finance, Labor and Transfers with 25 documents or 40.00%.
- In general, the highest number of documents was published by the Ministry of Internal Affairs (44 documents), but only 18.18% included contributions from stakeholders, whereas institutions such as the Ministry of Local Government Administration, the Ministry of Defense, the Ministry of Regional Development, and several other ministries did not receive stakeholder comments on any published documents (0%).

Stakeholder participation in commenting and contributing to the drafting of documents remains low in most institutions, with only about one-fifth of published documents having included active contributions from them. This indicates the need to improve internal collaboration processes and to increase stakeholder engagement in the development and drafting of official documents.

The Office on Good Governance / Office of the Prime Minister, in cooperation with the Advocacy Center for Democratic Culture (ACDC), for the inclusion and non-discrimination of non-majority communities in decision-making and policy-making, organized information sessions in the Municipality of Graçanicë and North Mitrovica to promote the Public Consultation Platform <https://konsultimet.rks-gov.net>. The consultation platform is a digital tool that enables and empowers citizens to actively participate in decision-making and the drafting of public policies.

These activities were specifically focused on the inclusion of non-majority communities with the aim of:

- Raising awareness on the importance of public consultations, non-discrimination, and inclusion of non-majority communities in this process;
- Encouraging the use of the platform by non-majority communities to ensure they are not excluded from policy-making and decision-making processes;
- Ensuring compliance with international standards on human rights;
- Promoting the participation of vulnerable groups and non-majority communities in the drafting of legislation and public policies.

The meetings brought together representatives of civil society from non-majority communities, local activists, and institutional representatives, offering a space for inclusive discussion and exchange of experiences. These activities are being conducted within the framework of the project “Support for Institutions and Communities to Build an Open and Inclusive Society in Kosovo,” which is supported by the British Embassy and the Embassy of Switzerland in Kosovo, and is being implemented by the Office on Good Governance and the International Organization for Migration (IOM).

In addition, there has been achievement and progress in fulfilling the objectives of the Office on Good Governance / Office of the Prime Minister regarding the non-discrimination of persons with disabilities in terms of inclusion and access to the public consultation platform for this category. Access to the consultation platform for persons with disabilities has been improved and is being provided, and the range of components within the consultation system at the local governance level has been expanded.

The main challenges that have been identified and drawn by the team are:

- Broad inclusion of CSOs outside consolidated networks remains limited.
- Short consultation periods in some cases have hindered the preparation of high-quality comments.
- Reporting in accordance with regulations and standards at a high institutional level on documents regarding comments submitted by NGOs still needs improvement.
- The lack of detailed responses for rejected comments is another weak point that requires improvement.

3. Methodology of Reporting and Monitoring the Implementation of Standards

The annual report on public consultations has been prepared in accordance with the reporting methodology set out in the regulation on public consultations. To prepare the report, several sources of information were used—data submitted and forwarded by public consultation coordinators from each ministry and the Office of the Prime Minister;

- Data published and updated through the Public Consultation Platform; and
- Other data derived from the activities of the Office on Good Governance / Office of the Prime Minister and projects that support the Government in the development and advancement of public consultations.

In response to the request for reporting from the Office on Good Governance / Office of the Prime Minister, 14 out of 15 ministries responded, as well as the responsible offices within the Office of the Prime Minister.

Again this year, some of the information reported by ministries did not match the data available on the platform; therefore, supplementary information was obtained from public consultation coordinators in the OGG and the respective ministries. Through the electronic platform for public consultations, a total of 259 documents were published during 2024, where consultations remained open into 2025, while for 251 of them, the consultation was closed by 31 December 2024.

Below, we present the data on the course of the consultation process, the number of published documents, the comments submitted by the public and NGOs, the reports, and other data from the public consultation platform.

Table 2. Summary of types of documents published by institutions – Consultations closed during the period 01.01.2024–31.12.2024

To summarize the types of documents that were published with final reports—meaning those that met all the criteria of public consultation—this result, as noted earlier, shows an almost equal distribution of documents published with and without final reports for the year 2024. However, some institutions have completed the process significantly better in preparing final reports than others, particularly MM, MESTI, MCYS, MLGA, etc. Out of the 251 documents published on the platform for which consultations were closed in 2024, 144 documents (or 57.37%) had final reports, while 107 documents (or 42.63%) did not. Therefore, this year, compared to previous years, we see a lower percentage of compliance with public consultation rules.

The participation and contribution of stakeholders are reflected in the following table, which summarizes the types of documents published according to stakeholder activity. The engagement of civil society organizations, with around 53 participants and 170 comments submitted by CSOs, shows a high level of participation, which also provides substantial room for improvement for the entire civil society sector.

4. Public Consultation at the Local Level in the Republic of Kosovo

The Office on Good Governance / Office of the Prime Minister, together with the Ministry of Local Government Administration (MLGA), consultation coordinators, and civil society organizations, aims to significantly improve the transparency of public institutions for civil society organizations and the general public, and to increase institutional accountability.

Thus, the public consultation system has also been expanded in the majority of municipalities—not only in terms of regulatory aspects, but also in establishing the tools and conditions necessary for its implementation. Almost all municipalities are integrated into the public consultation platform, and the majority of mayors have appointed public consultation coordinators and are publishing documents for public and civil society organization input.

The Office on Good Governance / Office of the Prime Minister, through the system, has created space on the platform for each municipality and has provided support to consultation coordinators to ensure public participation in the consultation process through the platform at the local level as well. This is a highly progressive and forward-moving step for institutions within the system of good governance, public inclusion in policy-making, and accountability to the citizen.

From 01.01.2024 to 31.12.2024, the local level has published a total of 193 documents, including 10 concept documents, 03 draft law, 15 strategies, 01 programs, 40 action plans, 36 draft regulations, and 88 other documents. However, this report does not include statistical details on the publication of documents and public consultations at the local level.

It is worth noting that the municipalities of Prishtina, Prizren, Glogoc, Gjilan, Ferizaj, Rahovec, Suhareka, Kaçanik, Skenderaj, Kamenica, Hani i Elezit, Junik, Podujeva, Mitrovica, Istog, Shtime, Vushtrri, and many others published documents for public consultation during 2024. However, there are about ten municipalities that have not published documents on the platform for public consultation.

Below is the overview of document publication on the platform by the local level:

5. Improvement and advancement of the public consultation process, capacity-building of officials, and the process of cooperation between the government and civil society

The Office on Good Governance / Office of the Prime Minister, in order to improve and advance the consultation process, enhance the capacities of officials, and strengthen inter-institutional access and coordination for the consultation process, in addition to its ongoing work, is also implementing and developing a series of policies and recommendations that have resulted from relevant analyses and evaluations. One of the key documents in this regard is the “Framework for Improving the Implementation of Minimum Standards for Public Consultations for the period 2021–2025,” which was developed in cooperation with the OSCE. Currently, work is underway to improve, develop, and advance the overall functionality of the Online Platform for Public Consultations.

In terms of capacity-building for public officials in the consultation process, various trainings have been organized in cooperation with the Kosovo Institute for Public Administration (KIPA), the team of certified trainers, the OGG/OPM, and other experts. These trainings have been held both in group formats and within the responsible institutions themselves for public consultations.

Additionally, access to the Online Platform is being improved for persons with disabilities, ensuring their fuller and more active participation in social processes and in the development of public policies in Kosovo.

- The advancement of public and civil society involvement in consultations is being carried out through well-structured and planned approaches by the institutions, including:
- Organizing regular and specialized trainings on public participation, consultation techniques, and communication with civil society;
- Utilizing case studies and best practices from other countries;
- Drafting practical guides, developing manuals, and protocols that guide staff in organizing and effectively managing consultation processes;
- Using various methodologies, such as online consultations, in-person meetings, public questionnaires, etc.
- Inter-institutional mentoring teams for the exchange of experiences and best practices, as well as for direct official exchanges to learn from successful models.

A key element is also the cooperation with civil society organizations (CSOs), through the development of joint capacities and the design of joint consultation processes, promoting effective and sustainable partnerships.

6. The level of compliance with minimum standards for the consultation process

Also this year, the quality of consultation, the methodology used for drafting this report, and the resources allocated do not allow for an assessment of compliance with standards from a qualitative perspective. Nevertheless, according to the information provided through reporting and those published, there are many good examples of ministries that published and consulted documents on the platform during 2024 in accordance with the regulation standards and even beyond this framework.

The ministries that have fully met the standards are: The Ministry of Culture, Youth and Sports; the Ministry of Defense; the Ministry of Education, Science, Technology and Innovation; the Ministry of Local Government Administration; and the Ministry of Regional Development.

7. Total Number and Status of Comments on Draft Documents

During the year 2024, from 01.01.2024 to 31.12.2024, a total of 259 documents were published on the public consultation platform, of which consultations for 251 documents were closed by 31.12.2024, while consultations for the remaining documents continued into 2025. Among them are: 20 concept documents, 37 draft laws, 10 strategies, 03 programs, 09 action plans, 60 draft regulations, 114 administrative instructions, and 06 other documents.

According to data published on the platform, a total of 170 comments were submitted during the public consultation process for approximately 53 documents. Most of the documents consulted on the platform were also subject to consultations through official communications and working meetings, including online formats, where comments were submitted in writing, along with other methods of communication and consultation.

Most of the comments on the platform are offered through attached documents, which contain a greater number of comments than those automatically generated in the statistics section. The total number of comments in this report is derived from the official information provided by the coordinators of public consultations in the specified ministry. It is important to note that public involvement in the consultation process differs from ministry to ministry.

8. Summary of the Consultation Process During 2024

The Office for Good Governance/The Office of the Prime Minister aims to enhance the accessibility and transparency of institutions to the public and strengthen their accountability. This office is supported by the public consultation coordinators in the Office of the Prime Minister, by line ministries, and now also by coordinators at the local level.

The Office on Good Governance within the Office of the Prime Minister, together with the ministries and municipalities, has succeeded in publishing and sharing almost all documents that have been drafted and approved, or are in the process of being approved by the government, ministries, or municipal mayors, on the online platform <https://konsultimet.rks-gov.net/>. This has paved the way for public engagement, information sharing, and input from both the public and non-profit organizations in formulating public policies and legislation. Working alongside the coordinators, the Office for Good Governance/Office of the Prime Minister has focused on maximizing public participation in the public consultation process.

The Office for Good Governance/The Office of the Prime Minister, as the coordinator of the public consultation process in collaboration with line ministries and consultation coordinators, has worked on monitoring and implementing standards for public consultations. In accordance with the new Government Work Regulation, and up until now also with Regulation No. 05/2016 on Minimum Standards for Public Consultations, the Office on Good Governance / Office of the Prime Minister leads and is responsible for drafting the Annual Report on Public Consultations carried out by all ministries and the Office of the Prime Minister.

In cooperation with all ministries and institutions involved in the development of policies and legislation, the office has prepared the annual public consultation reports for several years. The annual report for the year 2024 contains all the documents that have been published on the platform for public consultations and for which the consultation started on 01.01.2024 and ended on 31.12.2024.

The purpose of this report is to present the work done during the year 2024 in implementing the minimum standards for the public consultation process by the government and line ministries. The report provides a comprehensive overview of the details and statistics regarding the compliance with standards, covering the entire process from planning and initiation to document drafting, consultation flow, drafting of consultation documents, use of consultation methods, particularly the platform, public participation in contributing their input, and the status of comments, etc.

During the January–December 2024 period, the Government of the Republic of Kosovo published 259 documents for consultation, 251 of which have had their consultations closed and finalized, and fall into the category of documents that, under the Regulation, must be consulted with the public by their authors.

9. Recommendations Derived from the Report

Our commitment is to overcome current challenges and to ensure more secure pathways for sustainable cooperation between the government and civil society.

The developments and progress in the process of public consultations in recent years are highly valued in improving the standards for policy-making and legislation drafting in the Government of the Republic of Kosovo.

However, we continually encounter challenges along this journey, ranging from technical obstacles to the failure to fulfill institutional obligations for implementation.

The objective of the Office of the Prime Minister / Office on Good Governance is and remains to work together with ministries, municipalities, and non-governmental organizations to improve the public consultation process, ensuring greater transparency in decision-making and policy formulation. Ultimately, with full commitment from all stakeholders, the environment for civil society engagement in policy making in Kosovo can become even more favorable.

The recommendations we identify and draw from this report are:

- To extend the consultation period for more complex documents.
- To further promote the online platform to encourage broader participation.
- To strengthen two-way communication for each comment received or rejected.
- To encourage the representation of local CSOs and those that are not part of existing networks.
- Digitization and use of modern tools / Use of digital platforms for public consultation (such as platforms for online comments, participation apps, etc.).
- Social media should be integrated with this platform.
- The possibility for document owners to be available to respond to comments and to provide a reply for each comment received from the public and CSOs on the platform.

These recommendations aim to ensure the full involvement of civil society in the public consultation process, making the government listen and take into account their contributions and recommendations in shaping policies and legislation. Such a commitment will contribute to enhancing transparency and accountability in public decision-making, thereby improving governance and justice for all citizens.
